Bottom Line: Get dressed. Stand Firm. Fight!

SUPPLIES

- Cell Phones
- List of challenges (see below)

GAME PREP

Everyone with a cell phone (parents should play too! Everyone in your house, if you only have 1 kiddo that's ok, you can add challenges to the list or change this up as long as you are getting the "feel" that the item you are using is essential to your daily life.)

Everyone will need a cell phone for the game.

- Text a family member, "I love you." The first team to get a reply and read it out loud will get a point.
- Take a picture of you pretending to fly. The first person to take the photo, run up front and show it to me will get a point.
- Create a slow-motion video that isn't actually in slow motion. The first to create the video, run up front and show it to me will get a point.
- Take a picture and upload it to social media. The first person to get a "like" from someone who isn't on their team will win a point.
- Look up this verse in the Bible. The first person to find it and read it out loud will win a point: Ephesians 6:11 (Put on all of God's armor so that you will be able to stand firm against all strategies of the devil.)
- Take a picture of a mom and edit it to make it the "perfect pic." The first person to show me their "perfect pic" (and I like it) will win a point.
- Who has the most unread emails in their inbox? Find it on your phone and tell me the number. The team who has the highest number will get a point.
- Who has the lowest battery percentage on their phone? Run up here and show me. The person with the lowest percentage will get a point.

HOW TO PLAY THE GAME

Say: You're going to really like this game.

How do I know? Because you really like your phones. Each person has a phone they are using for the game.

I'm going to read a "challenge" and give you the opportunity to win a point.

At the end of our game, the person with the most points will win the game.

Begin the game by reading the list of challenges.

If the game goes by too quickly, feel free to add extra challenges.

At the end of the game, declare the winner!!

FULL ARMOR OF GOD

We would never even think of leaving the house without our phones nowadays...

Why is that? Is it an essential tool that we use daily? What are some other things we need daily? This game was fun, using a needed tool for our communication to others. Let's look at the bible and see what God says is an essential need. Read the lesson "Armor of God"
